The results from previous lab editions have been great. Highly innovative low budget films have premiered in major A-festivals around the world, won prestigious awards, had successful theatrical releases and been broadcast on television and VOD platforms.

CPH:LAB encourages creative risk-taking, raw talent, collaboration across borders and business sectors while supporting front-runners to push the existing boundaries of filmmaking as we know it.

With such a track record CPH:LAB has already proven that you can build an innovative production culture, stimulate calculated risk-taking and an entrepreneurial attitude - and deliver results at the same time.

Needless to say:
We have great hopes for this year's new teams of curious and bold filmmakers!
